Trying to Curb Cost of Auto Repairs; Postcard From Spain

Long before Ralph Nader came over the horizon to torment the manufacturers of automobiles newspaper editors (including The Star man) were scoffing at today's wrap-around bumpers as more ornamental than utilitarian.

Nader concentrated on the theme that cars are unsafe, which the majority of drivers ridicule, contending that it is the driver, not the car, that is unsafe.

Our complaint is not that automobiles are unsafe but that their design popular in the United States for the last 20 years makes body repair jobs tedious and costly. It used to be that a fender was replaced by simply unbolting the damaged member and replacing it. Nowadays you may have to replace nearly half the side of a car.

My remarks are directed at all American brands. They are good machines but equipped with ridiculously poor bumpers. Bump a building but slightly while getting out of a tight place in an off-the-street parking lot and the close-set bumper springs a fender out of line.

Sooner or later the Detroit manufacturers are going to have to realize that what the average American yearns for is a U.S. car equipped with Volkswagen bumpers. The truth is we are paying through the pocketbook for what Detroit calls a "good looks" design.

I dislike the notion of seeking relief through a federal law, of which we already have too many. But I have been keeping up with the progress of a bill to set up federal standards for cars, and report that it is apparently sidetracked for this session. The House Commerce Committee voted 20 to 18 against it last week. However its author, Rep. John Moss (D. Calif.), said he would make another try.

Much more practical than a new law is the program being worked on by the automobile insurance companies. They are planning to set up standards, particularly on bumpers, upping the premium rate on cars which don't afford sufficient body protection. This will get the job done. It will introduce a new note in auto trading—not only will you ask the car's price but also what the insurance rate is. Then Detroit will bend an earnest ear to John Public.

Tom Purvis, former Hope citizen who now resides in Texarkana but is over here several times a week, told me several days ago he and his wife were flying to Spain, and before I could remember to put a note in the paper I received a postcard from Spain Sunday. He wrote: "Will go to southern coast. Will check on boats, perhaps a trip to Tangiers. See you next week."

Tom was in the North African invasion in World War II, so I suppose a curiosity about how Tangiers looks today comes naturally.

U.S. Plans Report to Shed Light on Rising Beef Prices

By DON KENDALL

AP Farm Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department plans to publish this week a report expected to put more light on rising beef prices and show how middlemen as well as cattle producers have benefited.

President Nixon said last Friday it is a mistake and "totally unfair" to make the farmer the scapegoat for high meat prices at supermarkets and pledged action if middlemen do not ease up.

The report will be a followup to the announcement last week by the Bureau of Labor Statistics that retail food costs led by meat, jumped the most during February in 14 years.

It will be published by the Economic Research Service and is a monthly analysis of where the food dollar goes.

Bangladesh Takes Over Industry

DACCA (AP) — Prime Minister Mujibur Rahman has nationalized the major industries in Bangladesh and announced a phased take-over of foreign trade and internal transport services.

He said in a nationwide broadcast Sunday, the first anniversary of the start of the civil war that led to independence from Pakistan, that the move was necessary to rebuild the economy "on a war footing." He also said his government soon will announce a revolutionary labor policy, but he did not elaborate.

Under the nationalization decree, all jute, textile and sugar mills, domestic banks, and domestic insurance companies will be taken over by the government. Only foreign-owned banks and insurance firms will be excluded, Mujib said.

Most of the jute mills, the main foreign exchange earners for Bangladesh, were owned by West Pakistani families who fled the state shortly before it became independent at the end of the India-Pakistan war in December.

Mujib also announced that a constitution is being drafted that will be based on nationalism, democracy, secularism and socialism. He called on his people to build a society free of poverty, hunger and inequality, and he pledged his government will not let anyone die of starvation.

Mujib reiterated his foreign policies will be guided by the principles of nonalignment and peaceful coexistence and promised lasting friendship with India, which signed a 25-year friendship treaty with Bangladesh March 19.

Witness Testifies, Collapses

DENVER (AP) — Lobbyist Dita D. Beard linked the White House to the controversy surrounding International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. before collapsing in bed during a hospital room hearing called by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The 53-year-old Mrs. Beard, recuperating from a heart ailment, fell back onto her bed in pain Sunday after undergoing questioning by a Senate subcommittee investigating charges by syndicated columnist Jack Anderson.

Dr. Louis Radetsky, her physician at the Rocky Mountain Osteopathic Hospital, said later she had suffered severe pains in her chest, left shoulder, left arm and hand. Radetsky said she was resting comfortably four hours after the attack.

Mrs. Beard, before the hearings were temporarily called off, had testified under oath that she had written a memo after her boss told her the White House had called him to find out what ITT's financial commitment would be toward the Republican National Convention.

"It suddenly jumped up, is this $600,000 going to Nixon's campaign," Mrs. Beard testified.

After the hearing, Sen. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., said the telephone call mentioned a $600,000 figure.

"It would appear that the ambiguity was in the White House over whether the money would go to the Republican convention or to the presidential campaign," Tunney said.

In his column Anderson published a memorandum allegedly written by Mrs. Beard linking the out-of-court settlement of three antitrust cases against ITT last year with a $400,000 financial guarantee from the conglomerate to the city of San Diego to assist it in obtaining the Republican National Convention.

During the 2½ hours of testimony before her attack, Mrs. Beard again denied that she had written the memorandum published by Anderson.

Conviction Set Aside

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A federal judge has set aside the conviction of Louisiana Teamsters' boss Edward Grady Partin on three counts of conspiracy to violate antitrust laws and ordered a new trial on an extortion conspiracy charge.

Partin, 47, of Baton Rouge, was convicted March 2 of all four charges and his lawyers moved for a mistrial or for the judge to set aside the verdicts.

The ruling, disclosed today, was made by U.S. District Court Judge James Battin of Billings, Mont. Battin was the judge for the five-week trial, held in Georgia on a change of venue.

Battin said a new trial date would be set for the extortion conspiracy charge, which alleges that Partin used strong-arm tactics to force a contractor into doing business with Baton Rouge cement producer Ted F. Dunham Jr.

Dunham was convicted last year of conspiring with Partin to gain a monopoly over the concrete business in the Louisiana capital through labor stoppages, sabotage and various other illegal means.

Partin is business agent of the Teamsters local in Baton Rouge.

Battin said he took his action because he felt assured that appeals courts were almost certain to overturn the conviction of Partin on the three antitrust conspiracy charges.

The reason, he said, was that he had not been able to erase from the memory of the jurors certain hearsay evidence admitted in support of a fifth charge that was thrown out by Battin in the course of the trial.

from farm to retail shelves, for a list of "market basket" food items.

A spokesman said the report will show a further rise in a retail beef prices from the record high average of $1.11½ per pound, with most of the increase occurring in middleman margins.

But high cattle prices also have caused upward pressure. The concern by the White House, however, is over the increase in spread between the time an animal leaves the feedlot and when it is cut up and wrapped for sale in meat counters.

The January average retail price of $1.11½ per pound was a national average for all cuts of beef, a composite figure for meat from the entire carcass, hamburger and roasts as well as the finest steaks.

The department's market basket breakdown for January showed that of the $1.11½ per pound for beef in retail stores, the "farm value" of that amount was 74.1 cents. That is not the price farmers got for live cattle but is their share of the $1.11½ housewives spent for a pound of beef last January.

In other words, it took 74.1 cents worth of live steer to make up one pound of beef for consumers at the supermarket. Producers may have received 35 cents a pound or less for the live steer, but less than half the animal actually winds up on store shelves.

Gene Hale Is Candidate

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Eugene Hale of Little Rock, a lawyer, has announced that he will run for state representative in Position 2 of District 5. He is a Democrat.

IN THE NEWS

LOOKING UP as a national candidate after his victory in the Florida primary, Alabama Gov. George Wallace is under increasing critical fire from leading Democratic rivals.

Wallace Says Blacks Need Have No Fear

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — George Wallace's Florida campaign manager says he personally will reassure a black couple that they have nothing to fear by attending the Democratic national convention as Wallace delegates.

"We've been trying for the past two weeks to get people recommended who would conform to the regulations," said H. G. "Bill" France, who heads the Alabama governor's campaign in this state, "but blacks are fearful of repercussions from militant blacks."

"One lady told me, 'If my folks thought I voted for Mr. Wallace, they'd bomb me out.'"

Senda Warren, 38, a Negro housewife from Tarpon Springs, expressed fear Sunday when she was informed she had been chosen as a delegate and her husband selected as an alternate from the eighth congressional district by Wallace supporters.

Cigarette Ad Ban Upheld

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today upheld the ban on cigarette advertising on radio and television.

The National Association of Broadcasters and six broadcasting companies had argued in appeals that the ban restrains freedom of speech and discriminates against radio and television.

The court brushed aside without elaboration their pleas for a hearing and, as proposed by the Justice Department, affirmed a ruling by a three-judge panel in favor of the blackout.

The NAB appeal was turned aside 7 to 2, with Justices William O. Douglas and William J. Brennan calling for a hearing. The appeal by the broadcasting companies was turned down 6

Will Announce for Senate

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Randy Ishmael, 34, a Jonesboro lawyer, has announced that he will join the Democratic race for the Arkansas Senate in District 30, which includes parts of Craighead and Poinsett counties.

Previously announced candidates are state Rep. Jerry Bookout of Jonesboro and Sen. Bill Bishop of Harrisburg.

Accidents Claim Six

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Six persons lost their lives on Arkansas' highways this past weekend. A freight train was involved in two accidents.

The Associated Press weekend fatality count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

State Police said Wendell Lee, 1, of Turrell died in a Memphis hospital early Sunday after a car driven by Benny Lee Jr., 17, of Turrell, who was also killed, collided with a Frisco freight train inside the Turrell city limits Saturday.

Jerry M. Reed, 22, of Crossett, was killed Saturday when the dump truck he was driving was struck by a train at a crossing on U.S. 82B at Montrose in Ashley County, police said.

Two El Dorado residents were also killed in separate accidents this weekend.

Authorities said Booker T. Jones, 69, died in an accident one mile north of El Dorado on U.S. 167 Friday night and Rosie Stock, 21, was killed early Saturday in a two-car collision.

Clifford A. Wilkins of Little Rock was also killed Saturday when his car ran off a bridge west of Little Rock.

Troop Strength Below 100,000 in Vietnam

By GEORGE ESPER

Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — American troop strength in South Vietnam has dropped below the 100,000 mark for the first time since the summer of 1965.

The milestone in the phased pullout that began nearly three years ago was reached as the U.S. Command issued an official summary putting the number of troops in Vietnam at 101,700 for the week ending last Thursday. But military sources said that additional reductions in the following four days brought the level below the 100,000 mark.

The U.S. Command issues official strength summaries each Monday but they cover only the week ending the previous Thursday. The exact drop below 100,000 thus won't be officially confirmed until a week from now. Currently, American troop strength has been falling about 1,000 each day.

Last week's drop was 6,900 men, the most in two months, and cut the military population to less than half the level of six months ago.

The latest official summary gave this breakdown by service: Army 74,400; Air Force 21,500; Navy 5,300; Marines 400; Coast Guard 100.

The summary does not include 30,000 airmen based in Thailand and 15,000 Navy personnel engaged in the Indochina war from bases within the 7th fleet off Vietnam.

President Nixon has ordered U.S. strength in Vietnam cut to 69,000 by May 1. Peak American strength reached 543,000 in April 1969, two months before Nixon announced the phased pullout of U.S. forces.

During the big U.S. troop buildup in the summer of 1965, American strength in Vietnam reached 81,400 at the end of July, 100,300 in August and 184,300 by the end of the year.

Plans are for Army strength in Vietnam to be down to about 48,000 by May 1, with about 16,000 Air Force men and 4,500 Navy men remaining.

Thousands in Ireland Strike Because of British Takeover

By COLIN FROST

Associated Press Writer
BELFAST (AP) — Thousands of Protestant factory and office workers left their jobs today, paralyzing Northern Ireland in an angry backlash over British takeover of the their provincial government.

A wing of the outlawed Irish Republican army announced it was easing its guerrilla campaign against civilian targets. But militant Catholic nationalists of the IRA denied there was any truce. Denouncing the denial, three bombs exploded in parked cars in Protestant sectors of Belfast. There were no casualties.

The blasts sharpened tension in Northern Ireland's capital as columns of striking workers marched to city hall for a rally staged by the Ulster Vanguard Movement, a hardline Protestant organization.

Electricity was cut at break-fast time and within minutes trade, production and traffic ground to a halt throughout the province.

Vanguard leader William Craig, who called the two-day strike, was cheered when he told an estimated 20,000 strikers massed outside Belfast city hall, "We have to fight and we will fight."

Craig, a former provincial home affairs minister, said the aim of the protest was to force the British to restore the suspended provincial parliament with greater powers than before. He has vowed to make British rule impossible.

He called on Protestants to rally outside the provincial parliament building at Stormont when it holds its closing session Tuesday. He asked for a massive show of support for Prime Minister Brian Faulkner, who quit rather than give in to the British demands.

Thousands of workers across Ulster joined the strike and held meetings supporting Faulkner—an indication that the new British secretary of state for Northern Ireland, William Whitelaw, can expect little Protestant support while he rules the province for the next year.

Nearly all the 5,400 men at Belfast's Short-Harland aircraft plant walked out. So did most of the 10,000 workers at the Harland and Wolff shipyard. All banks closed. Trains stopped running from Belfast's two major railroad stations. All flights from Aldergrove Airport were cancelled.

The militant Protestants acted because many saw suspension of the 51-year-old Protestant regime as a preliminary step toward union with the neighboring Irish Republic which is 95 per cent Catholic.

Mills Opposed to Nixon Bus Plan

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., says he is opposed to President Nixon's antibusing proposal.

Mills said Saturday that he opposed busing to achieve racial balance, but said he favored a constitutional amendment to deal with the matter so standards would be the same in the North and the South.

He said Nixon's plan would discriminate against the South. He said he would have supported a busing moratorium several years ago before the South began extensive desegregation, but that it would now principally affect the North and would result in different standards.

On another matter, Mills told newsmen he had not decided whether to campaign in Tennessee's presidential primary or in other states with presidential primaries.

It has been reported that many Tennessee Democrats believe that a strong campaign by Mills in their state could keep Gov. George Wallace of Alabama from winning the primary.

Mills repeated his statement that the Democratic National Convention this year could end in a deadlock among several presidential candidates and that he might be the choice to break it.

Mills was in Little Rock Saturday for the christening of a towboat named after him. It is the newest and largest towboat of American Barge Line Co.

House Speaker Carl Albert, D-Okla., said at the ceremony that it was appropriate that the towboat should be named "for the outstanding legislator of our time."

Albert also recalled that he had said at an appreciation rally for Mills last August that the congressman was "big enough, strong enough, intelligent enough to hold any office in the United States of America."

Gov. Dale Bumpers, who also spoke at the ceremony, said it was "fitting and proper that this vessel should be named for one of the all-time workhorses of the United States Congress."

Church Told to Keep Noise Down

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — The Newport Church of God has been instructed by a judge to keep the noise down during revivals.

Newport Police Court Judge Ben Sampson issued the instruction on a complaint brought by Leon Lucas, a city fireman who lives close to the church.

Lucas said the church was in violation of a city ordinance prohibiting loud and unnecessary noise.

The church contended Saturday that it has a constitutional right to conduct worship ceremonies as it pleases.

U.S. Savings Bonds sales in February in Hempstead County amounted to $15,164 making the total for the year $33,070 which is 20.2 per cent of the $163,000 quota. Howard County sales of $9,727 brought the year to $21,080 which is 17.8 per cent of the $110,000 quota. Sales in Lafayette County were $13,825 making the total $19,542 which is 30.5 per cent of the quota of $64,000. $7,715 sales in Nevada County brought the year to $15,193 which is 20.8 per cent of the $73,000 quota.

Midway Cemetery Perpetual Care Association will have its annual meeting Tuesday, April 4, at 7 p.m. at Midway United Methodist Church. All members and anyone interested are urged to attend by Mrs. Gene Ross, secretary.

Ronnie Massanelli, Freshman from Hope, is one of 13 University of Arkansas at Monticello students chosen as Outstanding Colleges Athletes of America for 1972. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Massanelli of Rt. 2, and is a graduate of Hope High School. He is a member of the University football team and is majoring in physical education. Criteria for selection includes strength of character and leadership both on and off the field, scholarship and displayed abilities not only in athletics but also in community service and campus activities.

An Easter Egg hunt for pupils of Grade III Department of the First Baptist Church will be held Friday at 3 p.m. at the home of Mrs. M. S. Bates at 1510 South Elm Street.

City Police are investigating five school break-ins. The thieves entered by prying open windows at Brookwood, Beryl Henry, Hopewell, Garland, and Patmos School. Various items were missing from each school. The investigation is not complete. Officers investigated a break-in at Kroger Store Saturday morning. So far as could be determined only milk and wieners were missing.

Tax Preparers to Be Checked by the IRS

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Internal Revenue Service agents are checking commercial tax preparers for law violations by posing as taxpayers seeking help.

IRS Commissioner Johnnie M. Walters said in an interview that the agents have found many violations resulting in prosecution. Some preparers were caught after suggesting to the undercover agents that they claim more exemptions or more deductions than they were entitled to.

Walters said the undercover work is not a form of entrapment.

"They have not attempted to do this by stealth," he said. "They've just presented themselves as ordinary taxpayers with the information to make a return."

Actually, the IRS is shopping around commercial tax-preparing businesses in the same way many consumers do. Many taxpayers have found that preparers give them widely varying answers on what their tax liabilities are.

"Where we have had indications of unscrupulous performances by commercial return preparers, in order to do something about it in behalf of the American taxpayer we have sent some agents with definite information, definite advice as to what they're entitled to claim on their returns," Walters said.

"They've had returns prepared. Some have been prepared incorrectly, intentionally,

Branch Hospital Plans Intensive Care Units

Dr. James W. Branch has returned from Columbia Missouri where he spent a week at the Missouri Medical School Center taking a course in advance Coronary Care.

The course was designed for the family physician and the internist who wished to update his knowledge of coronary heart disease and myocardial infarction and to improve his skill in caring for patients with acute myocardial infarction. A core of information, the mastery of which is essential to quality coronary care has been defined. The first two days was devoted to plenary session lectures and the remainder of the week was divided into 23 elective courses, designed to fit the particular needs of the physician. Each physician selected the course, tailored his own curriculum to meet his needs by selecting laboratory, making rounds in coronary care units, techniques in cardiac pacing, dog laboratory, and Missouri Cardiology Grand Rounds.

Dr. Branch has attended three such courses this year in preparation to opening soon an intensive Coronary Care unit with an Intensive Care unit at the Branch General Hospital. At the present time the hospital has

Guidance Discussed

The Hope Rotary Club heard Vocation Guidance Counselor Earl Downs in a program at the Town and Country on Friday, March 24 in which he discussed Hope High School students who seek higher education after graduation from HHS. He gave a good report on a "follow-up" of such students in recent years which showed that the Hope High graduate has done as well or better than the average when he or she goes to college.

Rotarian James H. Jones, Superintendent of Schools, expressed his thanks to all those who voted favorably to the schools in the last election, before he introduced the speaker. Mr. Downs, then, told of the good response the students at HHS had made upon hearing the results.

As for college entrance tests, it seems they vary with the schools, and grades are playing an ever-increasing importance in entering college. Loans and scholarships are available for many who seek higher education, but too often they are not aware of such financial aid. Those who desire information

The Citizens Committee For Better Quality Schools will sponsor a Tax Seminar Thursday, March 30 at 7:30 p.m. in Hope City Hall Auditorium.

John O'Nale, Asst. Director of the Assessment Coordination Division, Public Service Commission, and other members of the staff, will conduct the seminar.

All information and questions pertaining to tax assessment will be discussed. This will be a county-wide meeting and all citizens of Hempstead County are invited and urged to attend.

Music Club Meets

At the Friday Music Club meeting on March 24 in the home of Mrs. Sam Strong, two guests from Cincinnati, O., Doug Romaniak, pianist, and Mike Heath, tenor, presented songs from Broadway shows to follow the program theme, "Potpourri in the Lighter Vein." Their numbers were "Almost Like Being in Love" from "Brigadoon," "If I Loved You" from "Carousel," and "Maria" from "West Side Story." They were introduced by Mrs. Haskell Jones, a former member of the club.

Under the direction of the club president, Mrs. Helen Hatch, plans for the state convention and the national board meeting were discussed further. Mrs. Hatch appointed a nominating committee, Mrs. G. G. Medders, Mrs. H. A. Spragins and Mrs. Harry McEmore, to name officers for the coming year. The theme for National Music Week, May 7-14, is "Music Creates New Horizons," and the club chairman of it, Mrs. Calvin Smith, named committee chairmen to make arrangements for it.

After the program leader, Mrs. Strong, had made a few introductory remarks, songs from "My Fair Lady," "Oliver" and "No, No, Nanette" were sung by a chorus of club members, Mrs. Joe Eason, Mrs. Harry McEmore, Mrs. Clarence Geist, Mrs. James McLarty, and Mrs. Strong, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Arthur Strech. Mrs. Charles Snowden presented the story of the Hymn of the Month, "Spirit of God," and all sang it.

The hostesses, Mrs. Strong, Mrs. Harry McEmore and Mrs. Arch Wylie, served strawberry shortcake and coffee to 24, including two associate members, Mrs. Tom Hays, Jr., and Mrs. Roy Stephenson, and four guests, Miss Linda Ward of Schenectady, N.Y., Mrs. Harold Alexander, Mrs. Charles Routon, and Mrs. B. N. Holt.

Bridge Luncheon

A Ladies Bridge-Luncheon was held at the Hope Country Club on Thursday, March 23. Yellow mums decorated the serving table, and chicken was the main course.

In the afternoon bridge was played at three tables. High scorer was Mrs. J. B. Martin, and second high was Mrs. Brack Schenck. Mrs. Jim James and Mrs. James Gaines tied for the game prize.

Hostesses for the entertainment were Mrs. Jim James and Mrs. Brack Schenck.

Benefit Raises Over $6,800

MEMPHIS (AP) — The Lee County Cooperative Clinic at Marianna, Ark., netted about $6,800 from a benefit concert given Friday night in Memphis by Joan Baez, officials said.

After her performance, Miss Baez told a news conference she favored the controversial $1.2 million federal grant to the clinic, which provides medical care for the poor and blacks in the Lee County area.

But she added: "I think you and I have to fight for the day when we don't have to have government handouts."

Helen Bottel

Helen Help Us!

Face No Longer Her Fortune?

Dear Helen: Everyone said I was the most beautiful girl in town. I won several local beauty contests, then I got married, was soon divorced, married again, but we're not living together.

I've tried several jobs that didn't work out. I know I could make it big in modeling or acting if I looked like I did at 19. But at 25, I can't stand to look at myself in a mirror. I'm getting lines and sags!

Could you please direct me to a good plastic surgeon? —IN NEED OF A FACE LIFT Dear In Need:

A GOOD plastic surgeon would probably direct you toward expert counseling, for I suspect you need a mental overhaul more than a face lift.

Cosmetic surgery at age 25? Take another look in your mirror, then consider your (apparent) attitude that beauty is EVERYTHING, weigh it against your two marriage failures, your unrealistic ambitions, and—get thee to a psychotherapist.—H.

NOTE TO READERS: Face lifts are great for middle-aged people who need them—and I only wish the cost weren't prohibitive for so many (seldom under $1500 including hospital bills, and often much, much more).

However, if the plastic surgeon learns that a patient's goals are unrealistic, he may refuse to operate. Cosmetic facial surgery does not perform miracles—it only takes about ten years off the top.—H.

Dear Helen: A year ago I had a baby out of wedlock. The father wanted to marry me, but I refused. Then I met Joe, and the children (I have three) and I moved in with him.

I love Joe very much, but he isn't as good to us as at first. He's always yelling at the girls and everything has to be perfect. Yet

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MR. AND MRS. JOHN N. LOE

Miss Mary Nell Williams and John Norman Loe were married, Saturday, February 26, at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Cassidy.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferrell Williams of Hope and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Loe of Rosston.

Signaling the beginning of the wedding, candles were lighted by Miss Kay Butler of Shreveport. Her gown was fashioned of blue crepe with long sleeves and she wore a wristlet of yellow daisies.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was Doyle Glass. Vows were exchanged before a prayer bench in front of the mantel, which was decorated with greenery and white candles with baskets of white gladiolus and candles at each side.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was white organza and lace with long sleeves and a wedding ring collar. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

The maid of honor was Miss Kay Coleman. Her blue crepe had long sleeves of lace and she carried a bouquet of yellow daisies.

Tommy Hardin served the groom as best man.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Ronald Butler of Shreveport, Aunt of the bride, Miss Jan Jones, Miss Dory Jones, Smackover, Mrs. Jerel White, Gurdon, Mrs. Mike Lambert, and Miss Ginny Lambert, all of Emmet.

The bride's table was covered with blue and yellow floral arrangement and candelabra with white candles. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with blue and topped with white wedding bells. Presiding at the bride's book was Mrs. Donny Munn, sister of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Loe are now living in Hope

Rehearsal Dinner

On Friday, February 25, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Loe were hosts at Perry's dining room at the rehearsal dinner for the Williams-Loe wedding.

The bride-elect's colors were featured in the blue and yellow centerpiece and white wedding bells.

Gifts were presented to the attendants.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Another pilot program for still another cops-and-robbers series turned up Sunday night. This time it was "Jigsaw" on ABC and it went on for two hours.

With all that time to develop what was essentially a simple story, it wandered all over the lot in search of action, but never got very far away from the basic ingredients of action shows.

This time the central figure was a police detective who was trying to clean up a case and clear his name.

There was a wild automobile chase and a frantic hunt in the desert for a lost, ailing boy. There was skulduggery involving gambling casino money and venal public servants.

While the ingredients were familiar, the hero was a bit unusual. He was introspective, sometimes even a bit unsure of himself. He even made mistakes. At the climax, for instance, he accused the wrong man of theft and murder. At the fadeout, he wanted a job in the police department's missing persons bureau instead of the front line of crime.

James Wainwright was attractive as the policeman. But there are so many series built from the same blocks it is hard to see the need for another one.

Faubus Says He Halted Buffalo River Dam

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) — Former Gov. Orval E. Faubus says he stopped plans by the Army Engineers to build a dam on the scenic Buffalo River because he feared the stream would be opened to commercial abuse.

Speaking Saturday to a meeting of the Ozark Society, a conservation group, Faubus said the Army Engineers told him they would leave untouched large stretches of the river below the dam and above the lake.

But Faubus said there would have been no protection against commercialism for the remaining stretches of the river. He also was concerned about the harm to wildlife, Faubus said.

The former governor vetoed the project in 1965. He said the dam plan could have been revived after he left office, "but fortunately ... my successors in office have taken the same stand I did."

President Nixon signed legislation this month that makes a national river of a 134-mile section of the Buffalo. The stretch will be preserved in its natural form.

Faubus said the engineers plans for damming the Buffalo—a tributary of the White River—were part of their overall plans for damming the White. He said that his friend, pertaining to tax assessment and tax structure will be discussed.

This will be a county-wide meeting and all citizens of Hempstead County are invited and urged to attend.

The Committee has issued a special invitation to School Superintendents and School Boards of the six districts in the County.

Women Getting the Soft Jobs

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Utah highway construction workers are complaining that women are taking over soft jobs as flagmen and refusing to get on union lists that would have them doing hard work such as operating jackhammers.

C.E. Berger, Utah State AFL-CIO president, told Gov. Calvin Rampton during the weekend that too many women have been displacing veteran union men in jobs where they direct traffic around construction sites.

State Highway engineer Blaine J. Kay said many of the women who have been flocking to become flagmen are college girls who find it a good high-paying job they can handle while attending school.

"They do a good job," Kay said, "and many of the contractors like them better than men because they learn quick and motorists treat them with more courtesy."

Blue Still Holdout

NEW YORK (AP) — Vida Blue remains a holdout today despite the efforts of two commercial organizations to get the Oakland left-hander to agree on contract terms with A's owner Charles O. Finley.

Robert Gerst, Blue's attorney, confirmed the report Sunday by Guy LeBow of the National Broadcasting Company which involved an offer of $25,000 to Blue to accept Finley's stand-fast contract proposal of $50,000.

"Vida is unwilling to accept it," said Gerst. "He thinks all of the money should be paid by the owner of the team. Mr. Finley is the one who is going to make all the money from him."

According to LeBow, the two organizations made the offer because they believe baseball can ill afford to lose Blue as an attraction.

"I think it's very nice that they're willing to pay him money," said Gerst in Los Angeles, "but Vida honestly doesn't want it."

Finley, in Phoenix, said he had not heard of the offer to his

Player Edges Nicklaus for New Orleans Open

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Gary Player was standing in the locker room next to Jack Nicklaus and was peering at a list of the season's top money winners, which showed his total as $38,000.

"Not bad for a few weeks work, eh, laddie?" the little South African asked, nudging Nicklaus in the ribs. "Not good for you, perhaps but fine for me."

He turned to some passersby. "You know the old story about Sam Snead burying his money in tomato cans? This one (and he indicated Nicklaus) needs barrels."

Player, competing in only his fifth tournament on his current American swing, had just picked up $25,000 Sunday with his victory in the Greater New Orleans Open. He'd surged past Nicklaus with a final round 69, three under par, and finished the 72 holes at 279.

Nicklaus, who held a two stroke lead at one stage of the final 18, had to birdie the last hole to close to within one stroke. He had a 73—including a double bogey five—for 280.

"I just played terribly," Nicklaus said. "I hit the fairway on the third hole and didn't see one again until the seventh." He was in the woods, was salvaged par from the water, was plugged in bunkers and once lost a good lie when "a 280-pound man came tromping along. Hoyt Again Signs Contract

By TOM EMORY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Every spring it's pretty much the same. Aging Hoyt Wilhelm signs his contract, goes to spring training and gets bombed in his first exhibition game.

A few heads shake and some one comments: "Looks like the old fella doesn't have it anymore."

The 48-year-old knuckleballer made his initial spring appearance Sunday. He got bombed as the New York Mets defeated Los Angeles 9-1. Wilhelm didn't get the loss—Tommy John got that—but he did get the attention.

Wilhelm gave up six runs when he faced the Mets in the seventh inning. He retired only one batter.

"It's the first bad inning he's had since he's been with us," Dodger Manager Walt Alton said. "He's pitched in camp just like he pitched last year, so we're not disturbed."

It doesn't matter who is shaking his head as long as it isn't Alton. In his 21 years in the major leagues, Wilhelm has won 143 games and has always been a warm-weather pitcher. Alton knows the weather is getting warmer.

In other exhibition games, Baltimore nipped Texas 6-5 in 14 innings, Montreal belted Houston 11-5, Boston defeated the Chicago White Sox 7-5, California routed Cleveland 7-1, Minnesota edged Atlanta 1-0 in 11 innings, Detroit beat Philadelphia 3-1, Oakland whipped San Diego 8-3, the Chicago Cubs trimmed Milwaukee 3-2, New York blanked Kansas City 2-0 and two separate Cincinnati squads topped St. Louis 5-3 and Pittsburgh 5-4.

A sacrifice fly by Terry Crowley scored Brooks Robinson to give Baltimore its victory. Robinson doubled and moved to third on a bunt.

Bob Bailey had four RBIs with a homer and single and Rusty Staub had three with a

Happy With Recruiting

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Bill Davidson, head football coach at Arkansas State University, says he is more than happy with the results of the Indians' recruiting this year.

"I think we have signed a number of outstanding college prospects with more size and speed than ever before," Davidson said.

He said that 47 high school players from seven states had signed grant-in-aid agreements with ASU, almost completing the recruiting year.

"We felt this was a key recruiting year for us," Davidson said.

Billy Casper, who had led or shared the lead through the first three rounds, collapsed with a 76 and finished well back at 283. He wasn't a factor after the first three holes.

Rookie Billy Ziobro, with a 70, and New Zealand's John Lister, 71, came on to share fourth at 281. Defending champion Frank Beard finished far back at 287. England's Tony Jacklin had a last round 76 for 294. Arnold Palmer and Lee Trevino did not compete.

UCLA Is Running Out of Goals

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The only province left to conquer for UCLA's incredible basketball team is the collegiate record for most victories in a year—60. The way things look, that mark may be in serious jeopardy.

After clinching NCAA crown No. 8 Saturday with an 81-76 victory over pesky Florida State, the Bruins took the basketball home for a year. Some have said the current John Wooden group will go unbeaten for at least another two years.

The king isn't about to abdicate.

The reason: four of Saturday's starting five return, along with the three top reserves. Up once salvaged par from the water, was plugged in bunkers and once lost a good lie when "a 280-pound man came tromping along. My ball was sitting up real good, but he was shaking the ground and the ball

Would Bar Free Tickets

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A member of the state Board of Higher Education has suggested that the University of Arkansas no longer give complimentary tickets to Razorback football games.

Jim Snoddy of Alma told the board Saturday that his suggestion was prompted by the university athletic program's reported financial problems.

Dr. David W. Mullins, university president, said the idea could be explored.

Snoddy said he had received free tickets when he was a member of the legislature and that he thought most legislators would be willing to pay if the opportunity were preserved to buy the tickets.

Porkers Split Pair

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks and Oral Roberts University baseball teams divided a doubleheader Saturday.

Oral Roberts won the first game 8-4, but the Razorbacks won the second 2-1 on a double by Stan Lay and a single by Bruce Mitchell in the second extra inning.

Up from the freshman team comes Andre McCarter, a 6-foot-4 guard who is the younger brother of former Drake All-American Willie McCarter. Also, 6-5 Pete Trgovich, a lithe, sharp-shooting lad with the great quickness Wooden loves so much.

Wooden doesn't like to recruit outside of California and only does so when he hears of a player he especially wants.

McCarter is from Philadelphia. Trgovich is from East Chicago.

And that could spell 'title No. 9' for the Wizard of Westwood.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The state Racing Commission has decided to split into two races the futurity at Oaklawn Park Tuesday for 2-year-old Arkansas-bred thoroughbreds.

The commission took the action Saturday because of the large number of entries for the $7,500 event.

The commission also upheld four rulings by the track's racing stewards on cases where jockeys and owners were either fined or suspended.

Olympic Swimming Hopes Are Bright

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — America's Olympic swimming hopes seemed bright today in the wake of Indiana's record-setting fifth consecutive NCAA championship despite a bitter controversy among the Hoosiers, runner-up Southern California and third-place Tennessee.

Ten American records were smashed—including two each by Indiana butterfly specialist Mark Spitz and Stanford breaststrokeer Brian Job—in the three-day competition as the Hoosiers struggled to a 390-371 victory over surprisingly strong Southern Cal.

The only disquieting note as the nation's top collegians took another giant step toward the Olympic Games in Munich, Germany, this summer came when the bitterness involving the three top teams surfaced as the meet drew to a close Saturday night.

The crowd at the U.S. Military Academy pool let loose with several rounds of jeers when Tennessee's Dave Edgar and John Trembley, on orders

Pro Playoffs Start

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National Basketball Association playoffs begin this week and the Los Angeles Lakers hope that lightning strikes twice. Or more precisely, they hope that Wilt Chamberlain strikes twice.

When Chamberlain played with the Philadelphia 76ers in 1966-67, he helped them set an NBA record for most victories in a season (68) and best percentage (.640). That team went on to win the NBA title.

On Sunday, Chamberlain recorded 23 rebounds to help the Lakers beat the Seattle SuperSonics 124-98 and break the 76ers' record.

The regular season finale gave the powerful Lakers a 69-13 mark for an .841 percentage.

Los Angeles thus begins its quest for a title this week. The Lakers, runaway winners of the Pacific Division, will play the Chicago Bulls to kick off the Western Conference semifinals. Golden State will play Milwaukee, the Midwest Division winner, in the other best-of-7 semifinal. In the East, it's Atlantic Division champ Boston against Atlanta and New York vs. Baltimore, the Central winner.

In other NBA games Sunday, the Boston Celtics routed the Detroit Pistons 133-120; the Atlanta Hawks stopped the New York Knicks 120-106; the Golden State Warriors nipped the Philadelphia 76ers 116-115; the Cincinnati Royals ripped the Cleveland Cavaliers 135-122; the Houston Rockets hammered the Portland Trail Blazers 131-109 and the Baltimore Bullets whipped the Buffalo Braves 119-101.

In the American Basketball Association, it was Denver 108, New York 91; Pittsburgh 131, Virginia 130; Indiana 98, Dallas 88 and Kentucky 105, Floridians 104.

Saturday night results in the NBA: New York 98, Cleveland 83; Chicago 121, Detroit 105; Houston 106, Baltimore 85; Boston 121, Buffalo 116; Milwaukee 119, Cincinnati 95 and Phoenix 118, Seattle 99.

John Havlicek and Jo Jo White combined for 50 points despite part-time service to lead the Celtics to an easy victory over the Pistons.

Atlanta came from 10 points behind with a 38-point third quarter that virtually sewed up its victory over New York.

Golden State lost a 14-point lead and needed a basket by Clyde Lee and two free throws by Jim Barnett to beat Philadelphia. Hal Greer had given the 76ers a short-lived 113-112 lead with 37 seconds left.

Immediately after the contest, Philadelphia Coach Jack Ramsay resigned. The 76ers finished third in the NBA's Atlantic Division, missing the playoffs.

Nate Archibald scored 45 points and John Mengelt added 28 as Cincinnati walloped Cleveland in the Royals' last game as Cincinnati's home team. They move to Kansas City next year.

Elvin Hayes celebrated his special night in Houston by scoring 30 points and leading the Rockets to victory over Portland.

Archie Clark scored 29 points and Mike Riordan scored 20 to lead Baltimore over Buffalo.

Amar Amber Favored

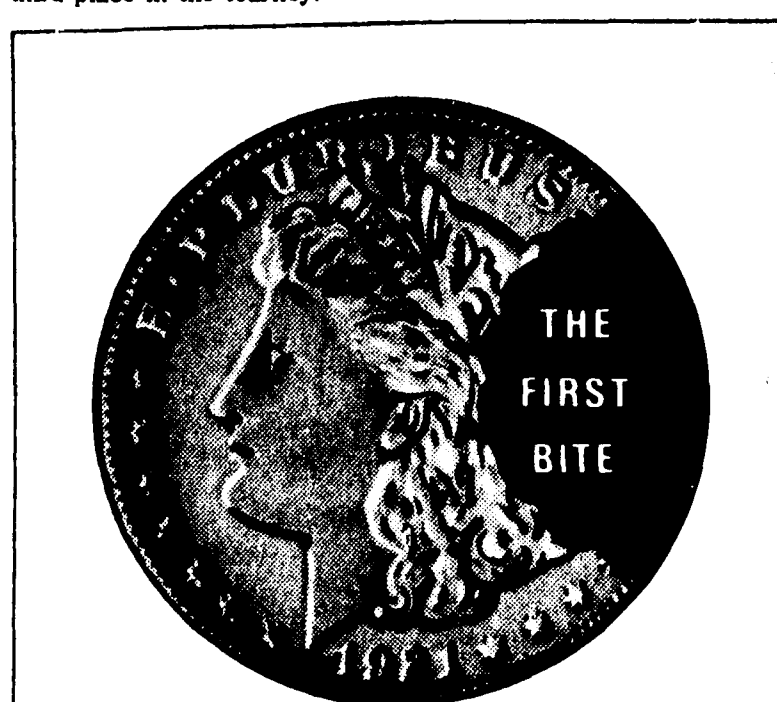

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Amar Amber, a consistent winner last season in Kentucky and Illinois, headed a field of 12 three- and four-year-olds, plus four also eligibles, for today's $12,500 Sporting Blood Purse at Oaklawn Park.

The Frank Corrigan-trained gelding, owned by William Corrigan and Robert Nolan, was to carry 117 pounds and jockey Don Brumfield in the six-furlong allowance feature.

Expected also to provide some stern competition were W. A. Oton's Danny S., carrying 109 pounds, Gus Blass' Sot Moore, 114, and Saron Hild's Greybrook, 114.

Germaine Vasquez was to ride Danny S. while Larry Snyder was named on Sot Moore and Jon Kunitake on Greybrook.

Rounding out the field were Greenlight Farm's Pal Hal, 109; C. P. Waggoner's Lisetta D., 113; Everett Lowrance's Hannah's Jr., 105; Ken Opstein's Mambrino, 109; B. M. Hawkins' Flower Thrice, 110; Hoss Inman and Bud Ogden's Oh Myrtle, 113; Ralph Hamm's Red Tamao, 121, and W. E. Priester's Four N Skip, 114.

Millions Wasted on Exhibit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Much of the $5 million Congress has paid out for a federal transit exhibit has been wasted on luxury hotels, first-class plane fares, $15 dinners and $3,000-a-page memos, Sen. William Proxmire said today.

The Wisconsin Democrat accused the Department of Transportation of subterfuge and a "gross misuse of tax dollars." Proxmire also asked Secretary John Volpe for an explanation and said he will seek a General Accounting Office investigation.

Proxmire said William J. Bird, a vice president of Kaiser Industries, is serving Volpe as a special and unpaid consultant on TRANSPO 72, an aeronautics and mass-transit show to be held next month at Dulles International Airport near Washington.

But even though Bird is not on the federal payroll, since last October he has been housed by the government in suite 409 in Washington's luxurious Watergate Hotel for $854 a month, Proxmire said in a letter to Volpe.

Also since last October, Bird has been paid for at least 18 trips—at $388 per trip—from his California home to Washington, and has traveled at government expense to Rome, London, Paris and Stuttgart, Proxmire said. He added the trips cost more than $9,000.

Bird also has billed the government for an $18 taxi ride from Washington to Dulles, for $9 lunches and $15 dinners, Proxmire said.

The Watergate accommodations were rented for conferences and meetings in connection with TRANSPO 72, Proxmire said. But the senator said information he has shows Bird uses the suite as living quarters. Proxmire said that neither Bird nor two other outside consultants, both Californians, who are working on the exhibit has any background in transportation matters.

One of these, Harry J. Krusz, president of Harry J. Krusz and Co., was retained by the Transportation Department to "conduct studies to identify management and operational problems confronting TRANSPO 72 and recommend corrective actions thereto."

Proxmire said Krusz submitted 10 reports to Bird, was paid $6,500 for the first two-page memo, $3,000 each for the next eight, which averaged four pages each, and $3,600 for the final report—a total of $40,000, or some $200 a day.

Proxmire characterized the reports as "inane and superficial."

Sesame Street Folks Appeal to Congress

By CARL C. CRAFT Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Television's "Sesame Street" people say they've learned the secret of success and they're appealing to Congress for the money to prove it.

Sesame Street, the children's educational show that was public broadcasting's first big hit, provided the formula, said one station official in House hearings.

"We can learn a lesson from Sesame Street," he said. "We do know the secret of success: Identify the need, find the talent, and make the money available to do the job."

The need, the talent and the money are the issues as Congress looks at the Corporation for Public Broadcasting's first five years and decides on the direction of federal help for public radio-TV.

Compromise legislation, approved by the House Commerce Committee, is due to reach the floor for a vote probably after the Easter recess. This bill aims to resolve disputes involving such things as who sets policy and how much money goes to local stations.

The bill would limit a future CPB executive to an annual salary of $60,000. But the ceiling would not apply to on-the-air talent nor to current officials. CPB President John W. Macy Jr. is paid $65,000 a year, and some public TV personalities are paid more.

The committee rejected a proposal to prevent the corporation from funding productions dealing with current news events or issues involved in partisan political debate. New attempts to write such a provision into the bill are expected during floor action.

Fake Robbery Proves Fatal

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — A grocer who apparently faked a robbery attempt to teach his employees how to deal with holdup men was shot to death by police who mistook him for a robber, authorities reported. Harold Egger, 35, was killed by uniformed Polk County Sheriff's deputy Gary Leis Friday night after the patrolman answered a call for reinforcements by plain clothesman Maurice Crews, 52.

Crews, who had staked out the store following a rash of convenience store robberies in the area during past weeks, had observed Egger enter the store, herd two employees into a back room, and walk to the cash register carrying a gun, said Sheriff's Cpl. Robert Bunting.

"Crews radioed us a robbery was in progress at the store, and when Leis arrived on the scene he saw Crews lying on the store's floor in a pool of blood," said Bunting. "Crews was still conscious and he yelled to the patrolman that a man was in the backroom, 'Watch out or he'll shoot you.'"

"Leis opened the door to the stock room, saw a man with a pistol pointed in his vicinity, ordered the man to drop the gun, and then shot him when the man refused and made a movement," Bunting said.

Egger was dead at the scene with a shotgun blast in the chest. Crews was listed in serious condition Sunday night with a bullet wound in the neck.

"The best we can determine about this whole thing ... is that no sooner had Egger locked up his employees than a man (officer Crews) walked into his store with a shotgun and he thought he had a real robbery on his hands instead of a simulated one which he himself had intended to pull off," said Bunting. "Apparently Mr. Egger just reacted."

Egger had recently purchased the store, Bunting said, and was apparently unknown to the store's employees.

4 in Family Die in Crash

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Four members of a Kansas City, Mo., family and their pet poodle were killed Sunday when their Piper Cherokee Arrow airplane crashed near Yarbrough Mountain, 10 miles northwest of here.

Johnson County officials identified the four as Tommy Sykes, 40, his wife, Annabelle, 39, their two children, Carolyn, 15, and Bruce, 11.

Coroner Roady Nicholas said that area residents reported hearing the plane's engine stall and then the crash.

The family was reportedly returning home after spending the weekend in the Clarksville area visiting relatives.

Judge Rules Boyle Trial Must Go on

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge Charles R. Richey ruled today that United Mine Workers President W. A. "Tony" Boyle and two other officials of the union must continue on trial for their part in allegedly illegal campaign contributions.

Attorneys for all three defendants had filed motions for judgments of acquittal. Richey denied all of them.

"The court finds and holds the government has sustained its burden of proof at this stage of proceedings," Richey said in ruling from the bench.

Boyle, 67, was charged with one count of conspiracy, one count of converting $5,000 in union funds to the use of others, and 11 counts of making illegal campaign contributions with union funds.

Union Secretary-Treasurer John Owens, 81, was charged along with Boyle in the conspiracy count and was additionally accused with participation in one of the contributions.

The third defendant, James Kmetz, 47, director of the union's political arm, is charged in the conspiracy count with aiding and abetting Boyle in the conversion of the $5,000, and in two of the counts alleging specific illegal contributions.

Ferrari's 9th Triumph

By BLOYS BRITT AP Auto Racing Writer
SEBRING, Fla. (AP) — It was the last Sebring Grand Prix of Endurance, at least on the battlefield in use for 22 years. And it was fitting that Mario Andretti and Ferrari should help with the last rites.

Andretti paired with Belgian Jacky Ickx to drive one of Enzo Ferrari's cherry-red bombs to an exciting victory Saturday as sports car racing ended an era at the crumbling Sebring Airport course.

It was Ferrari's ninth triumph in America's longest and oldest road race. And it was Andretti's third Sebring victory since he first drove here in 1966—a skinny youngster from Nazareth, Pa., whom the experts believed was too wild to have a future in auto racing.

The little 1969 Indianapolis champ and three-time winner of the U.S. driving title was at the wheel of the three-liter Ferrari speedster when it flashed out in front at Saturday's 11:05 a.m. (EST) start and when it completed its last mile 12 hours later.

Not only that, Andretti was driving when the car set a record qualifying lap of 123.64 miles per hour to win the pole position.

Mills Praises L.R. Airport

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., praised the New Little Rock Municipal Airport Sunday, and at the same time put in a plug for a new access road to it.

Mills said during the dedication ceremonies that at least a four-lane highway was needed at both the airport and the Port of Little Rock if the facilities were to be used properly.

He said that if necessary he would ask the state Highway Commission for the funds. Ward Goodman, highway director, has said funds for the road are not available.

Mills, seeking the Democratic presidential nomination, said he had been in 40 states recently and none of their airports matched the Little Rock facility. He said some of the airports may have been larger, but they were not as nice.

Robert M. Crisp Sr., the airport manager, estimated that about 1,000 persons turned out in the rainy, 50-degree temperature for the dedication of the airport.

Dismissal Ruling Likely

By ARTHUR EVERETT
Associated Press Writer
HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The prosecution and the defense having rested, the conspiracy trial of the Rev. Philip Berrigan and six others resumes today with a motion for dismissal pending.

Summations by defending lawyers are expected today, if the judge rules against dismissal.

The defendants were charged in connection with an alleged plot to kidnap presidential aide Henry A. Kissinger, blow up heating tunnels in Washington and raid draft offices to show their dissatisfaction with the Vietnam war.

Sunday hundreds of peace militants in black robes, with faces painted white to resemble death masks, marched past the federal court house. Among spectators on the steps were Deputy Asst. Atty. Gen. William Lynch and two of his prosecution aides. They apparently

Penicillin Won't Cure Colds

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — Why do doctors insist on treating a bad cold with so-called synthetic drugs when penicillin seems to work better and faster providing the patient is not allergic to it. The last cold I had the doctor prescribed synthetics. During the four days I was on the drug I ran a fever of 100 degrees, coughing and chest congestion. They finally gave me penicillin and the fever broke the evening after I began taking it.

Dear Reader — Colds and respiratory infections lumped into that category are caused by viruses. A virus is a link between the things that are purely chemical and living matter. It can only reproduce itself while inside a living cell. This is why all of the virus work has been done by inoculating eggs, animals or other living tissue. This is distinctly different from bacteria, which can be grown on the surface of a culture plate or on the surface of our throat. Penicillin has no effect whatever on treating virus infections.

Accordingly, doctors don't treat colds with penicillin with the thought in mind that they are going to get rid of the virus that causes the

HEALTH PLANS REPORT 11.2% GROWTH in '71

The 1971 Annual Report for Arkansas Blue Cross and Blue Shield was presented to its Board of Trustees in Little Rock this week. The Report showed that 1971 was a year of new records:

49,873 new members were enrolled during 1971, bringing the total membership for the prepaid health care plans to 494,885. This was the largest growth year in the history of the Arkansas Plans. Percentage of membership growth exceeded that of any like-sized plan in the nation. For this accomplishment the Arkansas Plans received special awards of commendation from the Blue Cross Association and the National Association of Blue Shield Plans.

During 1971, 458,343 claims for member care were processed and $35,831,625 were paid for the health care of Arkansas members of Blue Cross and Blue Shield, including, $314,762 of reserves to pay for member care. The percentage of income used in paying members' health care bills during 1971 amounted to 93.4%.

Percentage of income required to administer the Corporation during 1971 amounted to 7.4%, down from 7.6% for the prior year.

In addition to processing claims and paying health care bills for its members, the company also serves as intermediary and carrier for 240,000 Medicare beneficiaries for the Social Security Administration in Arkansas. 489,645 Medicare claims were processed during 1971 and $62,449,820 were paid for care of Medicare beneficiaries in Arkansas.

Arkansas Blue Cross and Blue Shield also serves 44,000 Champlain (civilian military personnel) and processed 26,266 claims under this program amounting to $1,681,246 during the year.

Re-elected to the Board of Trustees for a six year term was Edward M. Penick, President of Worthen Bank and Trust Company and John A. Gilbreath, Executive Director of Arkansas Baptist Medical Center. James Weber, M.D., of Jacksonville and Richard E. Struggs, Administrator of Centennial Memorial Hospital in West Memphis and Arnold Penick, Executive Vice-President of Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation were also elected to its year terms on the Corporation's Board of Trustees.

John P. Price, Jr., M.D., of Monticello, was elected Chairman of the Board of Trustees, succeeding the late Waldo Traver.

had interrupted preparation of their final trial tactics.

The march began more than an hour later under brilliant blue skies, in 40 degree weather made harsh by knifing winds. It is to be followed by daily demonstrations leading up to an Easter Saturday rally, which organizers hope will draw 15,000 persons.

Estimates of the number who paraded from City Island, midway in the Susquehanna River, to the state capital grounds across the courthouse ranged from a sponsor's figure of 700 downward to about 400. The goal had been 1,000.

Most of the demonstrators were young. Some laid palm leaves on the streets they trod, calling attention to the religious significance of the day, Palm Sunday.

On hand for speeches and songs at the base of a 104-year-old Mexican War monument were three of the seven trial defendants—the Rev. Neil McLoughlin, the Rev. Joseph Wenderoth and an ex-priest Anthony Scoblick. Berrigan himself is in the county jail, since he is under a six-year federal prison sentence for destroying draft records. The nine-week-old trial could reach the jury by midweek.

The defense abruptly rested its case Friday without offering any testimony.

Tornado Hits Texas Churches

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

One tornado took a lusty poke at churches and homes in Hillsboro and others popped up over a broad stretch of landscape in a prelude to what oldtimers call Texas' yearly Easter cold spell.

The twisters and blustery thunderstorms laced with hail broke out late Sunday in a sector from near San Angelo eastward past Mexia and north through the Dallas-Fort Worth area into Collin County.

By this morning calm weather returned to all sections and the leading edge of the new cold front had shoved as far south as a line linking Wichita Falls and a point south of Lubbock.

Hillsboro, between Dallas and Waco, apparently suffered the only serious damage in the rash of tornadoes. There was damage to both Methodist and Baptist churches, the Methodist parsonage, three homes in the southwest part of town, broken windows in business places and uprooted trees.

Officers said the only persons suffering injury at Hillsboro, however, was an unidentified man who was struck by a flying door. He was treated and dismissed.

Sightings of other funnel clouds were reported around Wall in the San Angelo vicinity, five miles north of Mexia, over Hensley Field at Grand Prairie, 10 miles southwest of Dallas, 20 miles north of Dallas and in a rural area of Collin County. There was no word of damage from these twisters.

Hailstones from the size of marbles up to two inches thick at a few spots accompanied brief downpours as a squall wind swept through much of the affected area while a tornado watch was in force for a Monday, March 27, 1972 corridor 120 miles wide centered on a line from Waco to near Tulsa, Okla.

The two-inch hail pounded Richardson, a Dallas suburb. In addition to the tornado watch, a severe thunderstorm alert was up until nearly midnight for 53 counties in North and South Central Texas and Southwest Texas east of the Pecos River.

Turbulence built up toward the end of a warm spring day which saw temperatures climb as high as 91 degrees at Mineral Wells and 89 at Del Rio.

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department today urged the Supreme Court to cut off a major test of the Army's surveillance of civilians until there is concrete evidence that constitutional rights have been violated.

"The courts are not a band of grand censors of governmental policy," Solicitor General Erwin N. Griswold declared in an advance brief. He said the four individuals and nine groups challenging the surveillance do so with "the broadest of generalities."

As a result of their suit, the U.S. Circuit Court for the District of Columbia last April ordered what amounts to a trial of the way the Army gathered information about individuals and associations beginning in the summer of 1965.

Today's one-hour hearing was on an appeal by the Justice Department to head off that inquiry. Griswold said that before any person or group is allowed into court to challenge the surveillance as being unconstitutional there should be evidence—or at least a claim—of "distinctive and discriminating harm."

The suit was begun in 1970 by Arlo Tatum, executive secretary of the Central Committee for Conscientious Objectors; Conrad Lynn, a New York lawyer; Rev. Albert B. Cleage Jr., minister of the Shrine of the Black Madonna in Detroit; Benjamin N. Wyatt Jr., a California lawyer; and by nine groups. They are:

Women Strike for Peace; Chicago Area Women for Peace; The Vietnam Week Committee of the University of Pennsylvania; The Vietnam Education Group of Knoxville, Tenn.; Veterans for Peace in Vietnam; The American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees; The Vietnam Moratorium Committee; Clergy and Laymen Concerned About Vietnam; and the War Resisters League.

Their lawyer, Frank Askin of Rutgers Law School in Newark, N.J., said the suit is made "of sterner stuff" than Griswold indicated. Askin said it charges that the purpose and effect of the surveillance was to make people fearful of protesting government policies since what they said would be recorded by the Army.

Under the government's theory, Askin said, the courts could not review Army surveillance until a specific individual proved he lost his freedom of speech and also lost his job or went to jail.

Griswold told the court, meanwhile, that the surveillance by some 1,000 plainclothes investigators was designed to find out which cities had high potential for violence and which speakers at public meetings were most likely to excite a crowd to action. He said the program was cut back following the peak of civil disorders in the summer of 1968 and was reduced again in mid-1970.

The information gathered was the kind that any trained newspaper reporter can amass, Griswold said, and there have been no allegations that the Army conducted surveillance of "wholly private activity."

A decision from the court is expected by mid-June.

Will Head Hospital

Russia Increasing Aid to Arabs

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. defense analysts say the Soviet Union is increasing military aid in an effort to shore up its standing in the Arab world after supporting Hindu India against Moslem Pakistan.

High-ranking Soviet military and civilian officials have traveled to Arab capitals in recent months and other such visits are reported in the offing.

Meanwhile, key Arab leaders have visited or have been invited to visit Moscow to discuss various aid projects.

Even tiny Yemen, relatively remote from the main Arab-Israeli confrontation theater, is sharing in the new arms benefits flowing from Russia, U.S. officials said.

After a three-year halt in major Soviet arms deliveries to the Yemenis, the Russians reportedly have agreed to supply them with MIG-17 jet fighters, tanks, patrol boats and other military hardware.

More importantly, U.S. defense sources said, the Russians have embarked on a comprehensive review of Egypt's arms needs.

This development came after Egyptian President Anwar Sadat flew to the Soviet capital for Kremlin talks, and Marshal Andrei A. Grechko, the Russian defense minister, spent four days in Egypt in late February. Grechko also stopped in Somalia, another African nation courted by the Communists.

A Lebanese newspaper reported last week that Russia has agreed to build a factory in Egypt to produce MIG-21 jets. The Egyptian air force already has MIG-21s, manufactured in the Soviet Union and shipped by sea to Egypt.

The United States received its first panda Dec. 18, 1936.

Hartke Out of Presidential Race

By MICHAEL PUTZEL
Associated Press Writer
Sen. Vance Hartke of Indiana has pulled out of the race for the Democratic presidential nomination and says he will devote his "full energies to nominating and electing Hubert H. Humphrey."

"My determination was there," Hartke said Sunday, "but I didn't have the money."

Humphrey, who was stumping for labor support in Philadelphia when informed of Hartke's announcement, said the endorsement "doesn't mean that it turns things around" but added he thought it would help him in the April 4 Wisconsin primary, the next ballot-box test for the presidential hopefuls.

Hawaii, former Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota and Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles are on the ballot but are making few if any campaign appearances.

On the Republican ballot, President Nixon faces Reps. John M. Ashbrook of Ohio and Paul N. McCloskey Jr. of California, but McCloskey has dropped out of the race, and Ashbrook is not actively campaigning in Wisconsin.

In announcing his withdrawal at a union meeting in Milwaukee, Hartke said he and Humphrey had disagreed on only one major issue—the Vietnam war—and Humphrey's position had come into line with his own antiwar stance after the former vice president's unsuccessful campaign for the presidency in 1968.

Jackson and Lindsay, both of whom were campaigning at a party dinner in Belgium, Wis., discounted the effect of Hartke's endorsement.

"I don't feel it will have any major effect on Humphrey's campaign," Jackson said. Lindsay said the endorsement wasn't surprising and is "not very consequential."

Humphrey and Muskie, meanwhile, minimized the importance of the Wisconsin primary as just another in a series of state contests.

Russia Shoots at Venus

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union announced it launched an unmanned spacecraft to Venus today and that it is expected to reach the area of the planet in July.

The Soviet news agency Tass said "Venera-8" weighs about 2,600 pounds, its on-board systems are functioning normally and "once it reaches the 'environs' of the planet, 'the descending craft is to make a smooth descent into the Venusian atmosphere and carry out scientific measurements.'"

The last Soviet Venus probe was Venus 7, which plunged into Venus's atmosphere Dec. 15, 1970, made a soft landing and transmitted data for 23 minutes from the planet's surface.

The Soviets claimed it was the first time that "scientific information was relayed from the surface of another planet of the solar system."

The previous Soviet Venus craft that attempted to soft land on the surface radioed information for 53, 51 and 96 minutes respectively as they penetrated the Venusian cloud cover.

Venus 7 was launched Aug. 17 and covered the 199 million miles between Earth and Venus in 120 days.

Letters To The Editor

This is your newspaper. Write to it. Address letters to: Editor The Star, P.O. Box 648, Hope, Ark. 71801.

All letters must be signed, with address so you are identified to the newspaper staff, but if the character of the letter permits we will allow use of a pen-name in the publication, in which case you should add "Citizen" or some other word below your real name and address.

Pen-names are permitted when a letter deals only with issues. Direct attacks upon public officials, however, must bear the writer's name for publication.

Editor The Star: "We, the teachers of the Hope School District, would like to express our deep appreciation to the members of the Citizen's Committee for Better Quality Schools. They have given a great amount of their time and energy to working for the betterment of our school system, and we believe it was due largely to their efforts that the millage increase passed in Tuesday's election. As their work progresses, we would like for them to know that they will continue to have our full support and cooperation.

"We would also like to thank all of those citizens of Hope who voted for the millage increase. Your children who are in our schools will be the ones to gain the most by having a better chance for a good education and a good future. However, all the citizens of Hope will gain as well, because better schools make for a better community. Thank you." Sincerely,
MARION ROBERTSON

Med Center Expansion

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. David W. Mullins, University of Arkansas president, was to receive preliminary plans today for a physical expansion of the UA Medical center.

Dr. James L. Dennis, university vice president for health sciences, said the plans call for creation of a new educational wing for nursing, pharmacy and allied health schools.

The educational wing they now occupy could then be used for the school of medicine, he said.

Dennis said officials were thinking in terms of a 50 to 100 per cent increase in the production of health manpower in order to meet the state's requirements.

But he said the Medical Center facilities, designed 20 years ago, were inadequate.

Dennis appeared Saturday before the state Board of Higher Education, which held two days of hearings with boards of the state colleges and universities to identify and perhaps eliminate duplications in degree programs among the state-supported institutions.

But Howard Holthoff of Gould, the board chairman, said that apparently no one who appeared before the board wanted to eliminate any degree programs, although some have produced no graduates.

Rain Seen for Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The National Weather Service said today that Tuesday should be a day of deliverance from the damp and drizzle in Arkansas.

The forecast called for the drizzle, with scattered showers and thunderstorms, to continue into tonight, mainly in the east, but to end Tuesday.

Skies will remain cloudy to partly cloudy tonight with decreasing cloudiness Tuesday, the forecast said. The prediction said temperatures tonight would be mild, but the thermometer will register slightly cooler readings Tuesday.

Low tonight was predicted in the 40s to mid 50s with highs Tuesday in the 60s to mid 70s.

Overnight low temperatures included 49 at Fayetteville, 47 at Harrison, 47 at Jonesboro, 55 at Pine Bluff, 61 at Texarkana, 54 at El Dorado, 49 at Memphis, 51 at Little Rock and 56 at Fort Smith.

Rainfall reports in the 24-hour period ended at 6:30 a.m. today included .21 of an inch at Fayetteville, .25 at Jonesboro, .37 at Harrison, .18 at Pine Bluff, .08 at Texarkana, .20 at Memphis, .30 at Little Rock and .67 at Fort Smith.

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Oswald: "Many bridge players either avoid counting a hand entirely or make no real effort to figure out how the enemy cards are divided."

Jim: "Most of them consider it a mysterious process requiring higher mathematics. Actually, all it requires is some concentration and counting to 13."

Oswald: "The basis of counting is common sense. You can't always get a perfect count but you can get some idea of enemy distribution and can use that in your play."

Jim: "Today's hand is a perfect example. South is in four spades after a three-heart opening bid by West. West cashes the ace and king of hearts, and shifts to the four of clubs. East takes the ace and returns the suit. South breathes a sigh of relief when West follows. Now it is up to him to go after the spade suit."

Oswald: "A quick count indicates that West held seven hearts. He has also shown up with two clubs. That leaves only four other cards. They could all be spades, but the chances are he holds just one or two. It behooves South to play East for the queen. He plays dummy's ace of trumps; leads the jack; lets it ride; makes his contract."

Jim: "He could have been wrong but his partial count gave him the right percentage play."

State Department to Get a Visable Role in Moscow Trip

By LEWIS GULICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has told the State Department to put together briefing papers for him to use on his trip to Moscow in May.

This, and a more visible role for the State Department in the business docket for the Kremlin summit, is helping salve wounds of some U.S. diplomats who feel their department's image took a beating from Nixon's China journey.

While the State Department did prepare material for the China visit, it was presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger who got the bigger publicity for his secret advance trips to the mainland capital.

And once the Peking safari got under way, it was largely a White House show from a news standpoint—so much so that Secretary of State William P. Rogers, upon his return to Washington, felt called upon to say: "I didn't feel excluded at all" from the China summit.

It's a different story this time, say State Department officials interested in projecting a mainstream foreign-policy image for their department.

Nixon, it was said, has issued instructions specifically naming the assistant secretary of State for European affairs, Martin J. Hillenbrand, to assemble preparedness and briefing material for the President's Moscow trip.

Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin has been in to see Rogers and Hillenbrand on at least two unannounced calls in connection with this preparatory work, the officials said.

A big difference between the China and the Soviet journeys, as the diplomats see it, is that the Peking venture was worked out super-secretly and focused on setting up an opening of contacts while the less hush-hush

Moscow visit will deal with many on-going negotiations.

Looming as the centerpiece for the Moscow summit, for example, is a potential first-stage agreement on missile curbs. This derives from the U.S.-Soviet strategic-arms-limitation talks (SALT) whose chief U.S. negotiator, Gerard C. Smith, is on the State Department payroll.

Another negotiation with an active State Department role, and which is being readied for Moscow summit review, looks to reducing incidents at sea between U.S. and Soviet forces.

Still another, which is slated to begin shortly, involves bargaining with the Russians for a settlement of the Soviet Union's post-World War II lend-lease debt to the United States.

And the State Department figures in other current issues with the Soviets, ranging from trade to stepping up access by ships to each others' ports.

Militant to Trial After 17 Months

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Opening statements begin today in the Angela Davis trial after 17 months of legal maneuvering and debate.

Chief prosecutor Albert W. Harris Jr. in his opening argument will seek to convince the all-white jury of eight women and four men that Miss Davis bought the guns and helped plot a shootout at the Marin County Civic Center on Aug. 7, 1970 in which a judge, two convicts and a black youth died.

Miss Davis, a 28-year-old black militant and an avowed Communist, is not accused of being present during the shootout. The state has never spelled out precisely how she figured in the alleged plot, which it charges was to take hostages in order to force release of the Soledad Brothers, three black convicts accused of murdering a white guard at Soledad Prison in January 1970.

One of the three, George Jackson, was killed last August during an alleged escape attempt at San Quentin.

The other two, John Clutchette and Fleeta Drumgo, are on trial, and their case is now in the hands of a jury in San Francisco.

It was Jackson's 17-year-old brother, Jonathan, who carried guns into the Marin County courtroom and armed three convicts in court. They took five people captive, and the shootout followed as they were trying to leave the courthouse parking lot in a panel truck.

The defense team, led by attorney Howard Moore Jr., has not indicated whether it will follow Harris' opening statement with one of their own, or wait until the state presents its entire case, which will include testimony from an expected 104 witnesses.

The defense, in 17 months of hearings over changes of venue, bail and other pretrial details, contends Miss Davis, who was fired from her job as a philosophy instructor at UCLA after her Communist affiliations became known, is the victim of a political frameup by Gov. Ronald Reagan and others.

It argues that after her job at UCLA came under question she

Museum Asked on Purchase

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — A resolution will be considered by the National Association of Secretaries of State that calls for cooperation in the construction of a museum at the site of the Louisiana Purchase Monument in East Arkansas.

The Executive Board of the association, which met Saturday at Orlando, voted to put the resolution on the agenda for the full organization's meeting in May at Hershey, Pa.

Secretary of State Kelly Bryant of Arkansas, the association president, proposed the resolution, which invites secretaries of state of the Louisiana Purchase states to participate in construction of a museum at the monument site. The monument is located at the intersection of the Monroe, Lee and Phillips counties lines.

Each state would have a room in the museum for exhibits.

Age No Issue, Pryor Says

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., says that he has not made the age of 76-year-old Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., an issue in their senatorial campaign.

Pryor said Saturday that he had been misunderstood if some persons believed he considered the senator's age an issue.

The congressman made the comment following a Friday night speech at Fayetteville in which he said of the race for the Democratic nomination for the position held by McClellan for 30 years: "It is about seniority, it is about power, and it is about how that influence and that power and that seniority has been used."

"We want to know how that influence has been used," Pryor said. "We're going to ask who this power has been used for. We're going to ask who has benefitted most from all this influence that we've been hearing about for the last 30 years."

Questions and Answers

By GLENDA BOZEMAN
Q. I became disabled on October 13, 1971. When will my payments start, assuming my claim for social security disability benefits is allowed?
A. Because the law provides for a six-month waiting period, payments to a disabled worker and his family cannot begin until the seventh full month of disability. This means that if your claim for disability benefits is allowed, you will be entitled to benefits effective with the month of May, 1972. The payment for this month is made on the third of the following month.
Q. My 16-year old son dropped out of school last month. Will his social security benefits be stopped?
A. No. Benefits to your child will continue until he reaches age 18. At that time, his benefits will terminate, unless he returns to school full-time, in which case, he remains eligible for benefits until he reaches age 22, if he does not marry.
Q. I have been covered by Medicare since July, 1971. Where do I mail my claim for reimbursement of medical expenses incurred by me?
A. Since the doctors who furnished medical services to you reside in Arkansas, your claim for reimbursement under Part B-Medicare should be mailed to Medicare, Arkansas Blue Cross and Blue Shield, 601 Gaines, Little Rock 72201.
Q. I have applied for Medicare but have never received benefits because I am still working. I will retire at the end of this month, and I want to know what I should do to start retirement payments.
A. You may start payment of your retirement benefits by completing and mailing the Reporting Card post card form to show the last month you will work. If you don't have the post card form or want help, call at, or telephone Area 214,794-3755 the social security office and we will help you. Call collect.
